

KANSAS CITY, KANSAS.

These Firms Do Business Because They Advertise.

Keeley Institute
Portsmouth Bldg.

For High Grade Work.
Cozad Printing Co.
Third Floor
Portsmouth Bldg.
RELIABLE WORK.
MODERATE PRICES.
10c per Week.

Dentistry, THE Journal
H. L. PARK,
AT YOUR DOOR.
10c per Week.

LOTS IN BELLEVIEW !

$125, $150, $200.
$10 cash, balance $5
per month.

S. N. SINGER & SON,
Combination Oil Cans
KANSAS CITY.

CANCER CURED
With Soothing Baby Oils
Cancer, Tumor, Cataract,
Eczema and all Skin Diseases.
Send for Book.
Please mention Journal.

Dr. D. M. BYE,
Combination Oil Cans
KANSAS CITY.

W. W. OVERTON.

Junction Grocery and Meat Market.

1930, 1932, 1934 N. Fifth St. Tel. west 69.

High class goods, low prices, full weight, convenient location, prompt delivery.

Orders solicited.

WOLF'S Steam Laundry
Phone No. West 83

For the next sixty days, Laundry, Tailor

Lace, Curtains, All

pieces, 50c per pair.

Mr. W. Wolf Prop.

5th State Street,

Kansas City, Kansas.

Photograph Tickets

Issued by any gallery

in Kansas City, Mo.

can be used at any station on the ticket.

Hanford & Allen,

512 Minnesota Avenue.

Minneapolis.

DO YOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY?

Here is the way to do it. Look at this:

3-room house, 50 feet of ground, elegant location, lots of shade, close to car line, rooms attached, E. W.

West Prop., 54

Minnesota Avenue.

Minneapolis.

RANDLES & SON

DRUGS, 514 Minn. Ave.

MORAL:

Insure With

WILLARD MERIAM,

511 MINNESOTA AVE.

DOCTORS IN COUNCIL.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE KANSAS HOMEOPATHIC MEDICAL SOCIETY.

WELCOMED BY MAYOR TWISS.

CHARLES CAREY HELD FOR THE MURDER OF JAMES CLUNE.

The Old Appointive Officers Give Way to Their Successors—Trying to Settle the Coopers' Strike—Want to Open Streets and Alleys.

About 100 followers of Hahnemann from various parts of the state are in the city attending the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Kansas Homeopathic Medical Society of Kansas. There are about 100 women physicians attending the convention. The meeting opened yesterday morning by prayer by Rev. B. C. Dunham, of the Central Christian church. This was followed by an address of welcome by Mayor Twiss. The mayor made an excellent address, which highly delighted the visiting physicians. President Anderson, of the state society, responded in a happy manner. Dr. Deiderich, of this city, then read a paper "on evolution." This paper was a satire on papers on this subject read by different doctors at previous conventions.

Dr. Boutin was then elected temporary secretary, after which a committee consisting of Drs. Tuttle, Thompson and Minick was appointed to pass on applications for membership to the society. After a short session the committee reported showing that the society has about 100 members. A committee, composed of Drs. Deiderich, Elliott, and Deppenreiter, was appointed to audit the treasurer's books. Drs. Menninger, Elliott and Deiderich were appointed a committee on publication of the "Cooper's" paper. All meetings are to be printed in the medical journals, and this committee is appointed for the purpose of editing the papers before publication.

Dr. Anderson, president of the society, delivered his annual address. Among other things he said: "While we have many reasons to congratulate ourselves on the great progress made by the homeopaths in the last few years, the homeopathic practice has not converted all the old school physicians, it has at least modified their practice and influenced them to some extent. We must, however, may, therefore, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those who deliberately deprecate the name homeopath and stand for the old school, and those who may, afterward, look to the future with the brightest hope, and while I would not disparage and condemn the old school, yet we are no doubt the homeopaths of the present, architects and builders of homeopathy of the future, must do something and bring something new into the world, and feed our bodies on something, and transmit to students and future practitioners of homeopathy something that will be of value."

"And in this connection I wish to emphasize the value of better trials to our patients, and to our profession. There is no place in the homeopathic school at present for men who are frightened of the disease. Let us, then, principles or give up all right to them, Beware of false gods."

"At this juncture let those who claim to be homeopaths come in to fact and name as well as profession. Let those